

Sinclair
Broadcasting's
decision to direct their stations to
air a
highly-politicized
documentary days
before a national election is a
pathetic example of the dangers of media
concentration.

Sinclair uses the
public airwaves free
of charge, and is
obligated by law to serve the public interest. The company's actions
show why we need to strengthen media
ownership rules--not weaken them. Please
do your job.
